My App is about The Weather

You would have to sign in to the app, When signing in you have to use your Name (Surname is up to you if you want to use it or not).

If the your account exists that the app will allow you to login in. When the app does not find a match with your login in details, you will have to sign up.

Keep in mind this app is for students only because the app will ask for your student number for to gain access to the app and be able to use the app.

Once you have login in, you must pick a day which you want to see the weather although it will show you the week's weather and conditions.

Once you done looking you will given only one option is that will be the "Back" button. When pressing the back it will return you back to the home page where you will put in the day you looking for.
